

As a small business owner, you have some idea what kind of impact the injury or absence of even one employee can have on your bottom line, but did you know that every $1 invested in an effective HAZCOM/Safety program can SAVE between $4 and $6?

Do I really need a formal safety program?

Check any that apply:

- ☐ DO THEY WORK WITH CHEMICALS?
- ☐ WOULD YOU LIKE TO MAINTAIN OR ENHANCE THE MORALE AND PRODUCTIVITY OF YOUR EMPLOYEES?
- ☐ ARE YOUR EMPLOYEES EXPOSED TO LOUD NOISES?
- ☐ DO YOUR EMPLOYEES LIFT THINGS?
- ☐ DO YOUR EMPLOYEES USE TOOLS OR EQUIPMENT?

If you checked even one of these items, the answer is "You absolutely DO need a formal, written HAZCOM/Safety Program!

EVERY COMPANY, regardless of size, is required by OSHA to provide a written safety and HAZCOM program which addresses not only the general acceptable procedures and cautions for its industry, but also covers site-specific hazards. SafeandCompliant.net can help you meet all the necessary requirements, including the proper Safety Program, HAZCOM Program, required posters, training materials, MSDS database, a self-inspection checklist and more!

You might not see the need for a safety program because you only have a few, or even just one employee, but OSHA doesn't see it that way. This difference in opinion could cost you hundreds, if not thousands of dollars!

- OSHA Citations cost employers $46 million + per year.
- Inspectors often ask to see a written HAZCOM program.
- It's not IF, but WHEN OSHA comes calling.
- You are liable whether you know your requirements or not.

- Some states have requirements in addition to OSHA's.

LET US HELP YOU TO BECOME SAFE AND COMPLIANT.

As a small business owner, you're a multi-tasker extraordinaire! But sometimes it can really pay off to delegate to an expert.

WHAT IS A SAFETY PROGRAM?

When you hear "safety program" you may think of procedures and policies that apply to how you handle equipment such as ladders, drills, fire extinguishers, and so on, and you'd be partly correct. However, a truly effective safety program isn't something that just keeps you in line with the letter of the law (OSHA regulations or other state-specific requirements). It's a living framework—designed around your specific working conditions, employee tasks and processes—that integrates health and safety decisions with other vital business decisions, and allows for ongoing focus on safety improvement and hazard reduction.

HOW CAN safeandcompliant.net HELP?

KNOW YOUR STATE REQUIREMENTS

Not every state has the same health and safety requirements, but every state expects the businesses within their state, large or small, to know and meet them. Let us do the state-specific research for you.

AVOID OSHA CITATIONS

Lack of a written HazCom program is not just one of the top ten most common OSHA citations, it's one of the top five! Protection under OSHA's Hazard Communication Standard (HCS) is based on a simple concept—that employees have both a need and a right to know the hazards and the identities of the chemicals they are exposed to when working, as well as what protective measures are available. This can be a lot of material to explore and compile!

That's why we have come up with a program that removes the guesswork and reduces the time and effort spent, helping you to become an OSHA Safe and Compliant company, quickly, and easily.
